

JOBS REPORT

IF YOU BUILD IT!

Four new building projects provide opportunities for women owned, minority and local contractors in District 4

With new development projects in the pipeline including the Skyline Hills Branch Library, Trolley Park Terrace, Ouchi Courtyards and Independence Point, construction opportunities are occurring all around the district. What I am most proud of, is the cooperation between the City, various contractors, Civic San Diego, The Jacobs Center for Neighborhood Innovation and my office to help extend sub-contracting opportunities to local, minority, and Federally Certified contractors. By developing a relationship with local contractors, opportunities were created for women owned, minority and local sub-contractors including African-American owned local companies through hiring events and contractor partnerships. I will continue to fight for more jobs and contracting opportunities for our residents and local businesses.

NEWS

You Can Use

Library Fine Discount Month. Pay 50% of your existing book and material fines due and the Library will erase the remaining 50%. This offer does not apply for accounts sent to the Treasurer's Office for collection or for Interlibrary Loan or San Diego Circuit charges. Fines can be paid down throughout the month of September and will be eligible each time for a half price discount; however, this discount offer will not be extended beyond September 30, 2015.

Upcoming Water Rate Increases. The City's Public Utilities Department will be calling for a public hearing on November 17, 2015 to discuss increases to both drinkable and recycled water rates. The City has tried to keep its costs as low as possible, however, due to the limited supply of local water, costs such as the price of purchasing imported water, are beyond the Department's control. The proposed rate increases will also help pay for the cost to upgrade essential infrastructure as well as the Pure Water Program which is expected to provide one-third of the City's water supply. The City Council has urged the Department to incentivize those customers that have done their best to conserve water. Detailed information and a protest form will be mailed to all water customers starting on October 3, 2015.

America's Journey for Justice

Councilmember Cole joined by other Elected Officials, participated in March coordinated by the San Diego Chapter of the NAACP

The march began at San Diego City Hall (202 C Street) and ended at the County Administration Building (1600 Pacific Highway). The event was in solidarity with the final stop of America's Journey for Justice. America's Journey for Justice was a 860 mile march through five states in the Eastern United States, which started on August 1, 2015 in Selma, Alabama and concluded in Washington D.C. on September 16, 2015 (see <http://www.naacp.org/aifj>). America's Journey for Justice, organized by the NAACP was in conjunction with labor, civil rights, environmental justice, education, and faith-based communities, to converge on Washington D. C. to demand the following:

- ✓ National standards for use of force for all law enforcement agents, and passage of the End Racial Profiling Act
- ✓ Federal action to ensure every student has access to safe, high quality education, regardless of location and household income
- ✓ Federal prioritization of job creation and training, and passage of the Raise the Wage Act and the Paycheck Fairness Act
- ✓ That Congress restore, strengthen, and advance the 1965 Voting Rights Act by passing the Voting Rights Advancement Act.

Hunger Action Month

September is Hunger Action Month, and in an effort to raise awareness, understanding, and commitment to tackling hunger in San Diego and across the nation, Councilmember Cole ask you to participate in our county's CalFresh Challenge. The Challenge will take place, Monday, September 21st through Sunday, September 27th. Each participant will be asked to maintain a food budget of $30.67 for the week, the current average CalFresh allotment for San Diego County residents. For more information and to sign-up, go here: <http://www.sdhunger.org/cfc>.
